

Dear FCC:

We here in Indiana are perfectly happy with the way our Attorney General has handled the "NO CALL" listing. We have perfectly good evenings without "Sales" calls and other unwanted advertising. It is OK for you to instill rules and regulations for States that do not have a "NO CALL" law. Therefore, if you pass such a rule it should be for "OTHER" State that do not have a law as good as Indiana. If I read the information correctly you would be diluting Indiana's law and permit unwanted calls from Credit Card Companies, Banks, and others THAT WE DO NOT WANT TO HEAR FROM. We are smart enough to call or correspond to those companies on our own, without them calling us at home when we do not want to be bothered. Please do not place this rule in effect for Indiana, we do not need or want such a rule to loosen the regulations that we now have here in Indiana. Thank you, Ruth A. McCarter Age 74
